Yesterday afternoon Signors Corte Crispi

Yesterday afternoon Signors Corte Crispi and Sevardent, supporters of his cause, and formerly a deputation from the revolutionary society, begged him to withdraw, as the Italian troops had crossed the frontier. Garibaldi refused, saying he did not value his life in such a cause, and that a soldier ought not to count the number of his enemies. Signor Corte replied that a General should.

The deputation then left the camp.

This morning Garibald, with about three thousand of his command. having two guns, moved for Tiroli to join Nicotora, one of his officers. In the meantime the Papal Zouaves, who were advancing, had taken Tiroli without noise at the point of the bayonet. Garibaldi's ferce did not know this and were marching towards the same point. When they arrived at Metona they were surprised by out noise at the point of the bayonet. Garibaldy's ferce did not know this and were marching towards the same point. When they arrived at Metona they were surprised by seven battalions of the Papal army, supported by twelve guns, who attacked them in front and on both flanks. The battle ground was among the hills with a country road running an both sides. The fighting continued figure is the statement of the public debt on the first of November:

Debt bearing five per cent. bonds of 1861, 828, 650, 918, 1875, 1876, 1876, 1876, 1876, 1877, 1876, 1877, 1876, 1877, 1876, 1877, 1 until the Garibaldian retreat became an utter rout. It is believed that here General Gari-

It is therein said that Grant is in hearty accord with the Republican party; and in proof of the truth of this assertion the editor quotes from the speech of Hon. Elihu B. Washburne, at Elizabeth, Illinois, October 5, which Colonel Forney says may be accepted as a like authority with the declarations of General Rawlings, now chief of staff of the army of the United States, made at the lens on the 21st of June last, As to General Parvillents areas the entire states of the states of t or the army of the United States, made at the lens on the 21st of June last. As to General Bawlings' speech, the editor says, in Italics, that "it was carefully prepared in Washington, after a full understanding with General Grant, and was spoken that the country might know exactly the position occupied by General Grant and himself.

Committee on Treatment of Union WASHINGTON, November 6.—Several members of the committee on the treatment of Union prisoners arrived this forenoon from New York. A sub-committee, with Representative Pile as chairman, will commence sitting at the capital on Friday. A number of witnesses have been summoned, the mass of whom the process of the progrey. at is stated that Commissioner Rollins' re-port will contain a strong argument in favor of adopting a plan of taxing whiskey stills ac-cording to their capacity. General Grant was busily engaged at head-quarters this morning, preparing his annual report as General of the armies of the United States.

From Philadelphia.

The National Prespyterian Union Convention commenced its session to-day. Rev. Mr Blair, the oldest delegate present, opened the convention with prayer. George Siewart was elected permanent chairman and Dr. Archibald, of New York, clerk. Over three hundred delegates are present, representing the Jutch Reform Church, the Old and New Scheol, and Reformed, United and Cumber land Presbyterian churches. Revs. Dr. Hodge & R. From New Orleans. Yellow Fever Matters.

New Orleans, Wednesday, November 6.

The Board of Health last night declared yellow fever no longer an epidemic, and that the city is now free from all epidemic disease. Citizens and strangers can return at once without apprehension. The weather has been very cold for several days, with northerly winds. Total number of deaths from the epidemic up to yesterday morning was 3,006. The Board of Health pays high and deserved compliment to the Howard Association, saying their success has been wonderful. There were six interments from yellow fever yesterday. day.
The theater season has commenced.

From Pittsburg.

Railroad sold.

Prittsburg, Wednesday, November 6.

The Pittsburg and Steubenville Railroad, known as the Pan Handle Railroad was sold to-day on a mortgage, by Mr. Elvotte, of New York, for $1,960,000, to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, W. J. Howard, their solicitor, bidding that amount. The next highest bidder was W. R. Ellis, of New York, representing htmself and other capitalists, his bid being $1,955,000.

A number of prominent capitalists from the A number of prominent capitalists from the East were present, and great interest was manifested as to the sale.

From Montgomery.

Doings of the Convention-Etc. Montgomery, November 6.—The reconstruction convention to-day passed resolutions authorizing the raising of proper standing committees to memorialize Congress, to remove the political disabilities of all who materially aided reconstruction.

An ordinance was introduced and referred, to restore all property sold by executors and administrators during the war, for confederate currency, to the legal heirs of the estates, without suit in court.

The State constitution will probably be modeled after the Vermont constitution.

From Richmond.

Military Order. RICHMOND, Wednesday, November 6.
General Schofield, in a letter to Governor Pierpont, directs him to inform the members of the Legislature that the usual session of that body will be dispensed with the comings winter.

From Schenectady. Escape of Criminals. SCHENECTADY, Wednesday, November 6.

Five criminals escaped from the jail last night, including Frank King, who is under indictment for murder. In Virginia City a poor widow, in overhauing an old vest of her husband, who had recently died, found a dusty paper in the pocket, which, upon examination, proved to be the deed of three feet of the Savage claim. The secretary of the company informed her that it was genuine, and that $1,800 in dividends were due on it. She took the money, sold the dirty paper for $14,000, and came to her home and friends in the East.

The Doctor removes Caucer without Pain or the use of the knife, and in addition to this he treats all CHRONIC DISEASES with great success. very Remarkable Case of Cancer Cured by Dr. W. C. Couden, of Louisville, Ky. by Dr. W. C. Couden, of Louisville, Ky.

I wish to make a statement to the public of the case of my little son, only three and a half years old, who was so terribly afflicted with caneer, which was thought to be incurable, when I placed him under the Doctor's care. The caneer was a very large one, involving almost the entire cheek. It appeared to be of a very malignant character, and a rapid growth, and had been coming for about three yerrs. The Doctor made an application, which he continued but a short time, which did not appear to produce but comparatively little pain to my son. The application appeared to leave the cancer in a dead state, and in a few days it sloughed out, leaving the surrounding parts in a healthy condition, and it has since been successfully healed, and he is now entirely free from pain, and is now perfectly well, and my little son is very proud of being cured.

I have seen and heard of a great number of weit and my hade son a traffic cured.

I have seen and heard of a great number of cases cured by Dr. Couden's 'treatment, and in the strongest manner I recommend him to all those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with cancer. I would advise all persons afflicted to make no delay in securing Dr. Couden's treatment, as I believe his treatment to be less painful and far superior to any other physician in the United States. The Political Revolution. The elections held on Tuesday last demonstrate that a wide spread revolution is going left. on in the public mind as to the principles and policy which shall control in the administration of the Government. It is the verdict of the "sober second thought of the people," which is more sure to be right than the first impulse of the popular judgment and will. The party in power can not deny but it has had every opportunity to influence the public mind and control the ballot box. The radical party has been for seven years in possession of nearly every pended in feeding and clothing said niggers, sufficient majority in Congress to make its power in that branch of the Government unmet with a decided, and under the circumstances, a most remarkable rebuke. The radical leaders can not deny but their measures have been passed upon by the country in the recent elections. Neither can they say but that where they have been the most thoroughly discussed, the condemnation has been the Cox, in a recent speech at Albany, New York, most decided. The three great States of the supplied this deficiency. He said: Union-New York, Pennsylvania and Ohiohave spoken, and their voice is against the destructive policy, the corruptions and extravagance of the party that has controlled the Government for the past seven years. The great reaction which has taken place gives hope that constitutional libcrty and free institutions will be maintained, and that the Government will be restored to the purity, simplicity, economy and equal rights capacity of men for self-government.

Irritated. The results of the recent elections appear to litical surroundings, in fact with itself and the irate and pugnacious spirit it exhibits in its speech of Hon. D. W. In an article discussing the re- they are permitted to rule. sults of the elections which have lately been held in those States, it remarks:

"Congress has a duty that it should perform with all speed, and that is to enfranchise the proscribed whites of the South. We do not want—it is not the interest of the country to have—negro supremacy throughout the States now held in military districts. If Congress should attempt to secure such Southern su-premacy, it will lose the North, and that is to lose everything gained both in war and the should attempt to secure such Southern supremacy, it will lose the North, and that is to lose everything gained both in war and peace."

And does not this concession of the Commercial fully justify all that Mr. VOORHEES said upon the character and workings of the congressional reconstruction policy? If not, why does it call upon Congress to enfranchise the proscribed whites of the South, so that negro supremacy, which it says it is not the interest of the country to have, may not prevail throughout the States now held in military districts? No fair minded person can deny that it was the purpose of the radical majority of Congress to so reconstruct those States that they should not be restored to the Union unless they were thoroughly radicalized. And the measures which were adopted to secure that end virtually deprive the white population of "any voice in controlling the present or shaping the future," just as was intended. Those who could not see that such was the design and will be the effect of the congressional reconstruction policy can be no longer blind, unless through partisan prejudices and passions they close their

COST OF JACOBINISM.—It appears from of ficial figures that the expenses of a standing army, which, under a Democratic administration of the Government, did not exceed $12,-000,000 a year, amount, in the second year of a Jacobin peace, to the round sum of $100,-000. As he charged, virtually the entire white population in the Southern States is disfranchised by the operation of the reconstruction acts, and the negroes invested with the power of political control. The recent elections demonstrate that even in Virginia and North Carolina, although a larger number of whites were registered than blacks, yet the latter held the balance of power and exercised it so as to determine the political character of those States. A VERY GOOD STORY.—Our Corydon cor-respondent tells the following good story in reference to an accident which lately occurred in Heth township of that county. Such ac-cidents he says are of daily occurrence down An accident of a remarkable nature occurred in the woods near Mauckport, last week, by which a man was thrown eighty feet into the air. He was standing on a balance tree by which a man was thrown eighty feet into the air. He was standing on a balance tree lying across a large log, to see another tree come down, when the tree in its falling course struck the other end of the tree on which he was standing, and the tremendous weight of it coming on the spring lever, threw him like a shot into the air. The remarkable part of the story remains to be told. When at his highest elevation the man caught hold of a limb in the top of a tree, about fifteen feet from the trunk, and remained suspended by the arms until the person who felled the tree traveled the distance of five miles and returned with help and a ladder, before he could be released from his perilous position. He was found in the same position as when left, evidently in the best of spirits, for he was whisting "Yankee Doodle" and making a strong tight with his feet against a delegation of wasps that were endeavoring to build a nest in his pants.—New Albany Commercial.

National Finance-Enormons Taxation in the United States. According to the most accurate statistics of national finance the aggregate amount paid in taxes in this republic is greater than is paid in any other country in the world. Last year laid by the General Government alone be, or a skin of wine. Perhaps some fellow of unusual boldness here and there may have taken a talent of silver. What pigmies of plunder! Hundreds of thousands of dollars make the small dust in the balance of our revenue collectors, and a place is hardly worth the intrigues by which it is gained if it does not promise a round million above all contingencies for a term,

Do the people clearly understand their position in all this? Do they appreciate that of the vast amount they pay in taxes a large proportion is as unjustly taken as if were taken by the highwayman, and goes not even te sustain a mismanaged government, but to enrich by the highwayman, and goes not even to sustain a mismanaged government, but to enrich the corrupt millions of a profligate party? We may naturally feel a certain sympathy for the people of the South, beaten down, humbred by degrading laws, and denied all the right of freemen, that the nigger may outweigh them in the political scale; but the people of the State must awake to the perception that they have a nearer and more positive reasen than mere sympathy for joining their voices to the rebule that the whole nation is uttering against the recently dominant Republican party—the party of negre supremacy, the party that has piled up this enormous burden of taxes; the party of unlimited, indiscriminate robbery in office. All this terrible taxation is telling on the material interests of our people in the worst way, and thus the Republican party has come to make itself felt in men's pockets, and men must make their repudiation of such a party felt at the polls in such good round terms as a majority of con-and the right to hold the highest offices of the Government.

"We do not claim, as intimated by the New York Times, any special Yavor for the negro. Whatever precautionary legislation we ask of Congress in his behalf is only such as the peculiarity of his situation demands. The question of his political status is not yet definitely settled. With another adverse turn in the wheel, and a conservative Republican and Democratic ascendency in national politics, the negre would be driven to the bayonet, or to disfranchisement, if not remanded back again to actual chattel alavery. We claim land for him in the South, because under the order of things out of which the rebellion grew, he was forced to continuous, unrequited toil, and is, therefore, entitled to compensation, not as a favor but as a right; because, through the periody of an unimpeached traitor President, the present occupants of the large landed estates are fraudulently possessed of an undue power, which they now wield, and will continue to exercise to oppress the biacks, and to the great detriment of the Government.

Shot at as a Pretended Ghost.

We have before us a private letter, detailing events that recently occurred in a southwestern Ohio town, that gives peculiar force to the old adage that "truth is stranger than fiction." We can give the main particulars of the letter without violating confidence or giving disagreeable prominence to the chief actor in the strange incident, or his friends.

Mr. Defoss W. is a wealthy and influential man, residing near the village of P. On the Thursday preeding the prize fight between Gallagher and Davis, the old gentleman was thrown into a high state of excitement at learning that his only son John had gone to Cleveland with the avowed purpose of attending the fight, and his eveitement was intensified at still further discovering that John had helped himself to his (the father's) pocketbook, containing $200. Mr. W. fumed and fretted over the conduct of his son, and went to bed on Thursday night with a raging head-ache, and marked symptoms of fever.

He was about the place in a more composed state of mind, on Friday, but the interview with John; on Monday afternoon, immediately after the son's return, threw the old gentleman into a paroxysm of rage and grief, which was rendered doubly severe by John's insolence and bis acknowledgment that he had lost $150 of the money in a bet on Gallagher.

Mr. W.'s frenzied feelings finally got the bet-who had first seen it had been trightened into a fit, from which it was doubtful whether she would recover. Thinking that probably the ghost was personated by some scoundrel, who had played the same trick several times before, a number of persons armed themselves with shot guns, proceeded to the cemetery and commenced a cautious inspection—their hearts keeping up an anxions thumping in their bosoms, in spite of their assumed bravado. They had not long to wait, for there, flitting among the tombs, was a white object, plainly to be seen. With trembling hands their guns were raised and fired, when—a strange fact for a ghost—they saw the white creature fall bewere raised and fired, when—a strange fact for a ghost—they saw the white creature fall between a couple of graves. Plucking up courage, they cautiously approached the object, and turned a dark lantern upon it.

Their feelings can be better imagined than described, when they found that the ghost was the lately "deceased" Mr. Delos W.! Whilst a portion picked up the bleeding and senseless body of the old gentleman, and started home with it, the remainder hastened to the vault. There they found Mr. W.'s coffin bursted open and lying upon the floor, and the coffin of a deceased lady that had been placed upon it. likewise thrown down from and the coffin of a deceased lady that had been placed upon it. likewise thrown down from the shelf and standing on end, partially broken open, displaying its ghastly inmate. The vault door, which was rather a weak affair, had been forced open by the resurrected W.

The party then went to Mr. W.'s house where they found that his wounds were not serious, and that he had recovered his senses. His story was briefly told: He had been carcarried to the cemetery in a trance. Early on Thursday evening, consciousness returned to

New Material for Paper.

New Material for Paper.

The New York Times says:

The high cost of rags for the manufacture of paper has led to long continued and costly attempts to substitute other articles, such as wood, atraw, bainboo, cornstalk, husks, etc., but owing to the great expense for chemicals and the machinery necessary for converting the materials into pulp, the cost of paper has not, to any considerable extent, been reduced. It is now slieged that the okra plant, which grows luxuriantly in all parts of the United States, possesses all the requisites for making every description of paper, from the common wrapping to the finest book or bank note paper, either sized or non sized without the addition of any other material whatever. It is claimed that this has been practically demonstrated, and the discoverer has, within the past few months, manufactured by the most simple and economical process, in different mills, a variety of samples of papers which, although made under very unfavorable circumstances, possess all the characteristics of paper made from linen rags and manifla rope. If this should turn out to be true, it can not fail to very greatly affect the price of paper, as the okra can be raised cheaply and abundantly. We understand that arrangements have been made for commencing the manufacture of okra paper this season.

man into a paroxysm of rage and grief, which was rendered doubly severe by John's insolence and his acknowledgment that he had lost $150 of the money in a bet on Gallagher. Mr. W.'s frenzied feelings finally got the better of him and he felied his son to the floor with a olow of his fist, and timediately thereafter fell down himself in a senseless condition. Great excitement in the family ensued. The mother ran screaming for assistance, which was soon forthcoming in the persons of several of the neighbors. Mr. W. was found in an apparently lifeless condition, with blood flowing from his mouth and nose. A subsequent examination by a physician led to the announcement by him that Mr. W. had died from the bursting of a blood vessel. So evidently had the vital spark fled that no efforts at resuscitation were made, and the "remains" were prepared for burial as promptly as possible.

The funeral of the "deceased" took place the following Wednesday. Mr. W.'s body had only been coffined the previous day—up to which time it had laid draped in its shroud, in the parlor. Notwithstanding the wonderful lifelike look of the skin, and the color in the face, it occurred to no one to suggest a postivulty certain. The funeral was very largely attended, and every body remarked the lifelike appearance of the deceased.

The "remains" were temporarily placed in one of the vaults of the cemetry, owing to the fact that a brick tomb, commenced for their reception, had not been completed.

At ten o'clock on Thursday night, the village was thrown into great excitement by the report that a ghost had been seen in the cemetry a short time before, and that the old lady who had first seen it had been frightened into a fit, from which it was doubtful whether she would recover. From twenty to thirty steam engines of various sizes constantly on hand. RUTLAND, OH10, July 26, 1886.

Messrs. A. B. Holabird & Co: Dear Sir—I am pleased to say the saw mill which I purchased of you a few months since is the best mill in the country, and the best saw mill I ever saw. I can cut twelve thousand feet per day with six hands. Everything works complete, and everybody who sees it say that it is the most complete piece of machinery that they have ever seen. I can not say too many good things in favor of it, because it is everything a man can wish in the way of a saw mill. We have other cincinnati and Zanesville celebrated saw mil's in our vicinity but they do not compare with yours in any way. Your mill is all the talk here, and if there should be any more wanted here, ours will be the mil that will sell. Yours, respectfully.

Allen's Lung Balsam.

CONSUMPTION, COUCHS, BRONCHITI Asthma, Group, and all the Disease of the Fuluemary Organs.

THIS BALSAM is introduced to the suferit public after its merits for the positive curs such diseases have been fully tested. The mula from which it is prepared is referred to the leading medical journals as being equal any prescription that can be made up for a diseases by the medical faculty. The Balsam consequently reand Flants, which are chemically extracted, so as to retain all their medicinal qualities.

MINISTERS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, who are so often afflicted with Throat Diseases, will fine a sure remedy in this Balsam. Lozenges and wafers sometimes give relief, but this Balsam, taken a few times, will insure a permanent cure.

Will the afflicted clergymen please test its Testimonials of Physicians.

Dr. Nathaniel Harris, for many years a resident of Middlebury, Vermont, recommends the Balsam as being superior to all other remedies for Bronchitis. He says:

"I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and the Lungs.

Dr. Lloyd, of Ohio, surgeon in the army during the war, from exposure contracted consumption. He says: the war, from exposure was taking that it was by
"I have no hesitancy in stating that it was by the use of your Lung Balsam that I am now alive and enjoying health."

Dr. Fletcher, of Missouri, says:
"I recommend your Balsam in preference to any other medicine for Coughs, and it gives satisfection." Physicians who have falled to cure their pa-tients should try this medicine before they give the case up, as we know very many valuable lives have been saved by being persuaded to give it a trial. a trial.

Don't despair because all other remedies have illed, but try this remedy and you will not be deceived.

The proprietors of this valuable Balsam take pleasure in calling to it the attention of all medicine dealers, desiring that the procure a supply of it, and recommend it to their afflicted patrons and friends. It will stand the test for merits, as has the celebrated PP-BRY DAVIS-PAIN KILLER, which has been introduced to all parts of the inhabited world, and is everywhere appreciated and sought after. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM Will cure when all others fall. Directions accompany each bottle.

5 Each committee ought to comprise at faithful laborers is the first object.

5 Each committee ought to comprise at least three persons—say, two ladies and one gentleman. A greater number will be desirable in many of the committees.

6. It will pertain to the committees to parcel out among their members the parts of sections which they would have each member take charge of. Perhaps one person should seldom have more than one square.

7. The number of the residence of each vistor should be given.

THE METROPOLITAN-Caste.-As this pop ular English drama is now being produced in the best thing of the kind yet invented. It is this city, we give the story upon which it is founded, which is simply this: The Hon. George D. Alroy is the son of an earl, whose widow has subsequently married a French nobleman, becoming thus a marchioness. George, who has the mental weakness of lisp, falls in love with Esther Eccles, a ballet ancer, and the daughter of a drunken vagabond. Polly, a sister of Esther, is also in the ballet, and in love with Sam Gerridge, a gas throw a stream of water from a well or cis-Esther and Polly. George makes a call, bringing with him Captain Hawtree, a regular London swell, who disregards all feelings of caste and tries to persuade him against marrying Esther, on account of being so below him in station, but at the same time gets up a flirtation with Polly. At this juncture Eccles comes in reeking with gin, which makes Hawtree more persistent in his endeavors to stop

Horrified at her son's marriage, her feelings are raised to a pitch of extreme bitterness, when Eccles, drunk as usual, enters, ecompanied by Gerridge in his working clothes. Eccles claims acquaintance with the marchioness, who recoils with horror from his ouch. As the time has arrived for George to depart, he requests his wife to buckle on his sword. She attempts to do it; but the task is too much for her; her head falls back, and, in his arms. George kisses her, departs, and the curtain falls.

The third and last act brings us back to the old homes of Eccles. Captain Hawtree has returned from India with the news that George has been taken prisoner by the Sepoys, and supposed to be dead. Esther, who is now a other, finds herself compelled by her neces ties to accept an engagement in the theater as all the money left with her by her husband has been stolen and spent in riot by her father. and nearly all she possessed sold. The Marchioness visits Esther, and desires to take her grandchild from Esther, and bring it up ong her own class. This raises the indignation of Esther, who orders her out of her house. Esther has been kindly treated by her fiends, particularly Hawtree, who has at mes advanced her money. Esther retires to rest, and Hawtree enters. Supper is ready and Polly puts the milk pitcher on the door step for the milkman, which is soon brought the cars a day or two since, will probably die

Casta was well put upon the stage. Mr. De Groat, as " Eccles," could not have been better. The part seemed to have been made for him, or else he was made for the part, we forget which. "Old White" was played in White's usual style. Mrs. Hodges, as "Polly," more than sustained her reputation. The by-play between herself and White was peculiarly good. Miss Kate Fletcher was " at home the character of " Esther Eccles," and presented it to the satisfaction of the audience Mr. Lingham was all that could have desired as "George D'Abroy." the audience. We have been inclined to speak favorably of Mr. Brever as often as it was possible, but we can not commend his "Captain Hawtree." There was entirely too much of the "Lord Dundreary" and "Lord Verisopht" in it. Mr. Breyer has a very poor conception of the character, and certainly ought to apologize to the author and the au

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT-A Man Run Over by the Cars, has his head completely severed from his Body.—Last night about eight o'clock as the switching engine on the Central Rail-road was going east, with some freight cars, it ran over Michael Shea, who was laying on the track, near East street. The entire train passed over him, completely severing his head from the body, and manging his right arm horribly. He was a man of about lifty-two years of age, and was working on the Junc-tion Road. It is supposed that he was intoxi-cated, and had laid down or fallen upon the cated, and had laid down of fallen upon the track. No blame is attached to the engineer. A GOOD THING. - We have been shown a double acting artesian pump, now on exhibition at the Sherman House, which seems to b very simple in construction, can not get out of order, will raise water from any depth desired, even a thousand feet. Instead of being filled with complicated suction valves, packing and stuffing boxes, it operates principally with vulcanized rubber balls, is never affected by cold weather, never freezes, and is always ready for use. The pump can be used either as a suction or force, being able to tern to the roof of the highest buildings. INDIANAPOLIS, CRAWFORDSVILLE AND DANVILLE RAILROAD.—The work on this road has been begun at Crawfordsville where the contractors are working in this direction, at Danville and Pekin, Illinois. It is now intended to let the whole line between this city and Crawfordsville on the 16th instant, and it is confidently predicted that the work will be completed and the cars running by the middle of next summer. Montgomery county donates one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars toward it, and other points are equally liberal. We understand that no stock has been taken in this county, and the city subscription of forty-five thousand dollars is not payable until the road is completed and the cars running forty miles west of the city. Having provided for the building of the road and got the right of way every where on the line, except from White river to the county line, it is only asked that this county shall clear this right of way, which is fifteen thousand dellars.

The commissioners took the matter into consideration yesterday, and had consultations with a number of influential city and property holders, nearly all of whom favored it most heartily, and recommended the appropriation. The building of the road will be of the greatest advantage to the county, and the board agreed upon the expediency of making the appropriation.

Influenced by these motives and the general expression of public opinion, the board ordered the appropriation of the amount necessary to secure the road, not exceeding $15,000. We think thus wise measure. The trade of Montgomery county with Lafayette new amounts to several hundred thousand dollars annually, the greater portion of which will undoubtedly be brought here on the completion of the road—Ecenting Commercial.
